1	09/25/01	John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC	Timothy Flanigan, Deputy Counsel to the President	The President's Constitutional Authority To Conduct Military Operations Against Terrorists and Nations Supporting Them	Concludes that the Commander in Chief Clause vests the President with plenary authority to use military force abroad. The power to initiate military hostilities rests "exclusively" with the President. "In the exercise of his plenary power to use military force, the President's decisions are for him alone and are unreviewable."	Made public by the Department of Justice and available at: http://www.usdoj.gov/olc/warpowers925.htm .
2	09/25/01	John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC	David S. Kris, Associate Attorney General	Constitutionality of Amending Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act to Change the "Purpose" Standard for Searches	Concludes that changing "purpose" to "significant purpose" would not violate the Fourth Amendment. The memo is criticized and partly repudiated in Steven Bradbury's 1/15/09 memo re status of certain OLC opinions.	Made public by the Department of Justice on 3/2/09 and available at: http://www.usdoj.gov/opa/document/s/olc-memos.htm .

4	10/23/01	John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC, and Robert Delahunty, Special Counsel, OLC	Alberto R. Gonzales, Counsel to the President, and William J. Haynes, General Counsel to DOD	Authority for Use of Military Force to Combat Terrorist Activities Within the United States	Concludes that, "the President has both constitutional and statutory authority to use the armed forces in military operations, against terrorists, within the United States. We believe that these operations generally would	Subject of litigation in ACLU v. DOJ , 06-cv-0214 (D.D.C.), and existence disclosed in a 10/18/07 declaration filed by Steven Bradbury in that case. Made public by the Department of Justice on 3/2/09 and available at: not be subject to the constraints of the Fourth Amendment” The memo is criticized and partly repudiated in Steven Bradbury’s 10/6/08 memo.	http://www.usdoj.gov/opa/documents/olc-memos.htm .

¹ This chart is not comprehensive. For example, we have excluded any memo that OLC has identified to the ACLU as a "draft," as "internal," or as "undated." We have also excluded memos that have been identified to us only by date and length. We have included documents sent by the CIA to OLC in cases in which those documents were incorporated or relied on in later OLC opinions.

DOJ , 06-cv-0214 (D.D.C.), and existence disclosed in a 10/18/07 declaration filed by Steven Bradbury in that case.
6	11/05/01	John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC	Associate Deputy Attorney General	Authority of the Deputy Attorney General Under Executive Order 12333	This memo extends the Attorney General’s authority under section 2.5 of Exec. Order no. 12333 to the Deputy Attorney General, allowing him to approve use of surveillance techniques for which a warrant would be required for law enforcement purposes.	Made public by the Department of Justice and available at: http://www.usdoj.gov/olc/25.htm
7	11/06/01	Patrick F. Philbin, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC	Alberto R. Gonzales, Counsel to the President	Legality of the Use of Military Commissions to Try Terrorists	Argues that the President may establish military commissions without consulting Congress.	Made public by the Department of Justice and available at: http://www.usdoj.gov/olc/whatsnew.htm .
8	11/20/01	John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC, and Robert J. Delahunty, Special Counsel, OLC	Alberto R. Taft, IV, Legal Advisor, Department of State	Prosecution for Conduct Against al Qaeda and Taliban Members under the War Crimes Act	Asserts that the Justice Department's interpretation of the War Crimes Act precludes prosecution under the statute for conduct against al Qaeda and Taliban members. The memo is cited in John Yoo's 03/14/03 memo concerning military interrogation of alien unlawful combatants.	Still secret. Subject of FOIA request filed by ACLU on 12/09/08.
15	01/22/02	Jay S. Bybee, Assistant Attorney	Alberto R. Gonzales, Counsel	Application of Treaties and Laws to al Qaeda and	Addresses treatment of detainees captured in Afghanistan with respect	Available at: http://f1.findlaw.com/news.findlaw.c

		General, OLC; John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC	to the President and William J. Haynes, II, General Counsel to the Department of Defense	Taliban Detainees ("Treaties and Laws Memorandum")	to long-term detention at the U.S. navy base at Guantanamo Bay and trial by military commissions. Concludes that the Geneva Conventions do not apply to al Qaeda members. Also concludes that the President has authority to deny the Taliban militia POW status. Finds that because customary international law constitutes neither federal law nor a treaty recognized under the Supremacy Clause, CIL does not bind the President or restrict the actions of the U.S. military.	om/hdocs/docs/doj/bybee12202mem.pdf .

					alien unlawful combatants.
20	02/07/02	George W. Bush, President	The Vice President, The Secretary of State, The Secretary of Defense, The Attorney General, Chief of Staff to the President, Director of CIA, Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff	Humane Treatment of al Qaeda and Taliban Detainees	In this memo, the President concludes that (1) none of the provisions of the Geneva Conventions apply to the conflict with al Qaeda, (2) the President has authority to suspend obligations under the Geneva Conventions with regard to Afghanistan, (3) Common Article 3 does not apply to al Qaeda or Taliban detainees, and (4) Taliban and al Qaeda detainees do not qualify as prisoners of war.	Made public by the White House and available at: http://www.pege.us/archive/White_House/bush_memo_20020207_ed.pdf .
21	02/07/02	Jay S. Bybee, Assistant Attorney General, OLC	Alberto R. Gonzales, Counsel to the President	Status of Taliban Forces Under Article 4 of the Third Geneva Convention of 1949	This memo finds that the President has sufficient grounds to conclude that the Taliban militia are not entitled to POW status under the 1949 Geneva Convention (III) Relative to Treatment of Prisoners of War because the Taliban have no organized command structure, do not have distinctive uniform, and do not consider themselves bound by the Geneva Conventions. It also finds that it is not necessary for the government to convene Article 5 tribunals to determine the status of the Taliban detainees since a presidential determination of their status eliminates any legal doubt under domestic law. 31	08/01/02	Jay S. Bybee, Assistant Attorney General, OLC	Alberto R. Gonzales, Counsel to the President	Standards of Conduct For Interrogation Under 18 U.S.C. §§ 2340-2340A	Concludes that conduct rises to the level of torture under domestic law and the Convention Against Torture only if it causes pain akin to pain associated with organ failure, impairment of bodily function and death. Prosecution for such acts may be barred where it infringes upon the President's Commander-in-Chief powers to conduct war and necessity and self-defense may justify interrogation in violation of § 2340A. The memo is criticized and partly repudiated in Steven Bradbury's 1/15/09 memo re status of certain OLC opinions. 32	08/01/02	John C. Yoo, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC	Alberto R. Gonzales, Counsel to the President	Letter regarding "the views of our Office concerning the legality, under international law, of interrogation methods to be used on captured al Qaeda operatives"	Concludes that interrogation methods that comply with 18 U.S.C. §2340-2340A do not violate international obligations under the Convention Against Torture based on the U.S. reservation requiring specific intent. Additionally, the methods could not fall under the jurisdiction of the International Criminal Court because (1) "a state cannot be bound by treaties to which it has not consented;" and (2) even if the ICC could act, the methods do not fall within the Rome Statute's crimes since they are not a "widespread and systematic" attack on civilians and neither al Qaeda members or Taliban soldiers qualify as prisoners of war. 71	12/30/04	Daniel Levin, Acting Assistant Attorney General, OLC	James B. Comey, Deputy Attorney General	Legal Standards Applicable Under 18 U.S.C. §§ 2340-2340A)	Issued to supersede John Yoo's August 2002 torture memo. Concludes that Congress's definition of torture, which requires conduct intended to cause severe pain, is not limited to "excruciating and agonizing" pain or suffering. Footnote 8, however, asserts that despite disagreement with the August 2002 memo, the Office's prior conclusions on detainee treatment are nonetheless consistent with this memo. Additionally, footnote 13 cites common dictionary definitions of torture to support "the statutory concept that the pain or suffering must be severe."
